Carbon Neutral Car Insurance One day Sale!

The Green Insurance Company are urging consumers not to be an April fool this Thursday by taking advantage of their one day sale.

The intermediary, who offer environmentally friendly insurance products, has launched a one day discount for this Wednesday (31st March) where motorists can benefit from a further reduction of up to 10% on their car insurance policies.

Gaynor Wood, Head of The Green Insurance Company, said: "We're offering motorists a great one day discount on our car insurance policies.

With April Fool's Day just around the corner, it's an ideal opportunity to make sure that, with your insurance premium at least, you won't look foolish."

The Green Insurance Company are one of the UK's leading environmentally conscious insurance companies. In addition to the discounted policy, motorists purchasing a car insurance policy will see 100% of their car's emissions offset.

To meet their carbon offsetting pledge, The Green Insurance Company has planted over 300000 trees in the UK since their inception in 2007 with a further 370500 confirmed to be planted in 2010. To date, the intermediary has offset over 120000 tonnes of CO2.
